ADDRESS ALL LETTERS TO CRACKED LETTUCE, 235 PARK AVENUE SOUTH, N.Y., N.Y. 10003

Dear CRACKED,

My father told me he read CRACKED when he was a kid. Is he lying? How long have you been publishing CRACKED?

Jerry Ansler
Tacoma, Washington

Dear Jerry,

Twenty years. But, he could still be lying.

Dear CRACKED,

I hate rain! Whenever I sit outside and read you on a day like today, the pages get all soggy and the ink drips onto my pants. Can't you do something?

Bobby Sanchez
Jamaica, Queens

Dear Bobby,

Rain, rain go away.
Come again some other day.
Take your drops and send them back,
Sanchez wants to read his CRACKED!

Dear CRACKED,

THE CRACKED LENS articles are great, but aren't you gonna start running out of ways of extending the title soon?

Dear Jay,

No! They're long enough already. Seriously though, every other month we release a new one, so just keep checking your newsstand.

Dear CRACKED,

Would you do articles about school and homework and getting sick and washing dishes and stuff like that?

Alec Sturmer
Canton, Ohio

Dear Alec,

You know, you're depressing.

Dear CRACKED,

It only took 60 seconds of reading your POGOLOID® satire before a huge smile developed on my face. Nice job!

Anita Alitzer
Pass-A-Grille, Fl.

Dear Anita,

If you had taken a speed reading course, that smile would have developed a whole lot quicker!

Dear CRACKED,

LAST WORDS BEFORE THE HANG-UP was really very... click!

Fred Johnson

Dear Fred,

Sorry, but it seems like the post office wants you to send them another 15¢ before they'll let you finish your letter to us.

Dear CRACKED,

Dear CRACKED,

My buddy, Tom, turned me on to a copy of CRACKED the other day. It must have been eight years since I had read one. Is there any way I could purchase eight years worth of back issues? The fact that I stopped reading CRACKED for so many years could very well be the biggest mistake I've ever made!

73467890
Cell Block 4
Levenworth, Texas

Dear 73467890,

Sounds like at least the second worst mistake you ever made, but we'll see what we can do.

Dear CRACKED,

Your article on MORK AND MINDY was fabulous. I read it every Tuesday night at 9:00 PM. It's like having my own personal T.V. show. Am I O.K.?

Don Basswell
San Francisco, Ca.

Dear Don,

No, you're not OK! Read it at 11:00 PM. You're on Pacific time, stupid!

Dear CRACKED,

It's about time somebody let the fashion industry have it!! (I'm referring to CRACKED INTERVIEWS THE FASHION KING, of course.) Isn't there something Americans can do after all the money they've cost us over the years?

Eileen Brocato
Honolulu, Ha.

Dear Eileen,

Sure. We could all adopt the Adam and Eve look.

Dear CRACKED,

Thank you! For a change, it's nice to see a magazine that's not only funny, but also clean as well.

Mary Pennington
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Mary,

Obviously you don't buy your magazine from the same place we do. Our newsdealer never fails to drip cream soda on our issue before handing it over to us.

Dear CRACKED,

I applaud you on the excellence of SUPER MS. It was! Clap. Clap. Clap. Clap. Clap.

Susan Sundberg

Dear Susan,

Please. Please. No more applause. Just buy magazines!!!!

Over at NBC, it hasn't exactly been Hit City lately. In fact, series have been leaving the air faster than tuckered out birds. However, among the ruins, one show has managed not only to survive, but to actually turn into a hit. Of course, they did have to cut back a little on costs for the show—i.e. they couldn't even afford to buy all the letters needed to spell out it's title. But nonetheless, as hard as it is to believe, the same network that gave us Hello Larry has actually turned out that fun-loving show

DIFF'RENT STROKES

SEVERIN

Woolies, have you told Mary Jean that you like her?

Told her? Man, I don't even know how to get her to notice me!

Maybe if you were walking down the hall with a cute kid and his dog, she'd stop to ask you who they were.

You don't have a dog.

Not at this moment, but if someone were to...

Forget it, Conold.

But it's for my brother's well-being.

Look, I've got to go to work, but my advice is—Woolies, talk to the girl and Conold, if you want $5.00, then go out and earn it. You've got to learn the value of money.

But I know that already. A C-note is 100 bucks, 2-bits is a quarter, a sawbuck is...

SNAP!

Bye everyone.

Would someone get the door for me?

I got it.

Thank you, Conold.

Now, how about 50¢?

50¢!!!?

Hey, look. You're getting off cheap! The doorman downstairs gets $8.75 an hour.

Well, I guess I'd better shove off for school and see what develops with Mary Jean. What are you gonna do, Dimberly?

I'm going to a slumber party.

At 8 in the morning?

Let's face it. The writers know you and Conold are the gimmicks on this show. I'm lucky they remember to have me come out of my room at all.

Now, let's see. How can a clever kid like me earn $5.00 before they roll tonight's credits... (think... think... think... think)... I got it!!!

Evening, Mrs. Carrot.

I did—about three panels ago.

Oh, hi, Mr. Drumming. Seems like you just left.

My. My. Time sure passes fast—even when you've got a plot as meager as ours.

How was your day?

Oh, the usual buying and selling. I finally got rid of that parcel of bankrupt land nobody wanted.

That hardware store?

No, Cleveland!

And how have things been going here?

Fine, I guess. Except...

Mrs. Carrot, where's the toaster?

Except for the toaster. Conold had a garage sale this afternoon and before I got wind of it, he had it sold...

...along with most of the turkey I was making for tonight.

Hi, everyone.

Oh, good Woolies. You're home.

You ever get a feeling that's all we ever do on this show is leave and come home?

Well, that helps advance the plot!

Advance the plot?!! That IS the plot!!

How'd it go with that girl? Did she notice you?

Well, I found out that guys who set records impress her. So, I set out to eat more Yodels than anyone at NOT-SO HIGH.

And?

Well, just as I was about to shove down Yodel number 33, Yodels number 1 thru 32 decided they didn't want to stay down any longer and...

What a waste of money!

So then she did notice you?

She will remember me for the rest of her life!

Well, that's something!

By the way, did you see your brother?

Not since this morning when he sold me this toaster.

I wonder where he can be? I hope he hasn't run away!

Again!! He wouldn't pull that same thing on our audience 3 weeks in a row.

Wanna bet?

Relax, everyone. I saw Conold just a few seconds ago.

He's out front earning money by renting himself out as a footstool!!

What!!... Why I...

Don't get upset, Mr. Drumming. Your youngest son just quit to go on welfare. However, I think I did learn my lesson for the week while I was outside.

That earning money is back-breaking work?

No, that while I'm off the set, this show dies!!

You're right! So in the hope of keeping you in here for longer periods of time, I've decided to give you a pet.

Honest, Mr. Drumming?

Very funny! Who do you think you are giving such jive to people—ME??

Which makes me want to ask you something?

Ever since I adopted you over half a TV season ago, something's been bothering me. You look and sound like a seven-year-old, but you act and talk like a mature man.

PAT!

Yeah. If I didn't know better, I'd swear you were a midget in kids clothing.

Well, if you promise not to tell anyone, I'll let you in on one little secret...

So that's why you always get excited when a plane goes by!!

...I am!!

THE CRACKED THEORY ON THE RELATIVITY OF TIME

An hour seems like a minute when you're watching your favorite TV show...

The "five more minutes" your mother made you wait before opening your birthday presents seemed like an hour...

The month that your teacher gives you to prepare a speech seems like only a day...

A minute commercial during your favorite TV show seems like an hour!!

The hour it took to open all your presents seemed like five minutes!!

The three minutes you spend in front of the class delivering the speech seems like a month!!

The year between your annual trip to the dentist seems like only a week...

The hour you spend actually in the dentist's chair seems like a year!!

The ten years between age 8 and age 18 seems like an eternity...

The 10 years between age 40 and age 50 seems like a flash in the pan!!

The three hours on a date it takes you to get up enough nerve to kiss a girl seems like a week...

Three hours of kissing seems like three minutes once you get started!!

The 10 minutes you spend talking to a pretty secretary at the water cooler seems like only a minute...

Working two weeks straight seems like you've been working for two years straight...

A half hour spent doing your history homework seems like two hours...

The five minutes your boss spends yelling at you for wasting company time seems like an hour!!

A two week vacation seems like you've been off only two days!!

Two hours of pouring over the latest issue of CRACKED seems like only a half hour!!

We here at this fine magazine you are now reading believe that our job is not only to entertain, but also to instruct, teach and inform.
And towards this goal
we now present a new feature entitled

THE CRACKED FACT PACK: HOUSING

A POTPOURRI
OF FUN FACTS,
SADISTIC STATISTICS
AND ANYTHING ELSE
WE COULD THINK
OF TO FILL
5 PAGES.

DEFINITION

HOUSE - the structure a family lives in until the bank comes and sells it out from under them when they miss one crumby payment-- the gall of the establishment! The nerve! Down with penny-pinching, twirpy little bankers who think they own you just because they... but we digress.

A house should reflect a person's interests and likes.

BARN RAISINGS

In the 1800's, when a family bought a lot (as opposed to a little) and needed a new house to go on it, friends and relatives would gather to help erect a new home for them.

They'd look over the plans...

Then all go and hammer away..

...until the house was finally completed.

Suggested building materials

Statistics

- * Over 11,000 homes are built every year in Canada.
- * Over 200,000 homes are built every year in the U. S.
- * And in Alaska, over 21 new structures were built here last week alone, mainly because for living, there's no place like Nome.

Buying Tips

A house may seem like a bargain.

But it is suggested that you investigate the home thoroughly before buying. The people above didn't, only to learn as they were moving in...

Famous Moments In Housing

Ancient Italian cavemen used to hang a small clove of garlic in their doorway. That, they believed, kept the evil spirits away...

Amazing Fact

At the age of 14, Sanford Stiffano built a house entirely by himself in less than one day.

Fact

8 out of 10 people needing mortgage money for a new home do it through the loan arranger at their bank.

There are many different types of houses—all having advantages and drawbacks. Some are:

Igloos

Thatched Huts

Housing Codes

Many cities adopt these to insure that older houses will be maintained in good condition. Two things building inspectors look for are:

(1) Adequate lighting

(2) Adequate water supply

Fact

5% of all Americans live on houseboats.

COWS HAVE TWO STOMACHS!

This has nothing to do with housing, but it was so amazing, we thought we'd just throw it in anyway!

Tip

When hiring an interior decorator, meet him or her in person. His or her dress will give you a clue as to where his or her tastes lie.

Embarrassing Moments #1

Should you forget your key and find yourself locked out, getting back in can be bothersome—especially if you live in an apartment.

Many songs have been written about houses. One in particular—"Home On The Range."

When buying a house, never trust ads.

New one bedroom. Year round a.c.; lake-view; wooded area; only $9,000; original owner.

THIS COULD EASILY TURN INTO THIS

I told her we should have taught the dog how to open the door, but would she listen?—No!

Make Simple Furniture For Your Home

TABLE

CHAIR

BED

LAMP

Embarrassing Moments #2

CRACKED is buying an amnesia victim a bouquet of forget-me-nots!

3 TIPS ON BUILDING YOUR OWN HOME

(1) Get a lot big enough for what you want to do.

(2) Plus make sure the lot is in a good location.

(3) Also, hire an architect with a good reputation.

Fact

Early homes were always completely enclosed, but finally someone discovered that a fire could be built inside for warmth and cooking.

Now if only (cough) someone would discover (cough) ventilation!

MOBILE HOMES

For some, a wise investment. However, don't buy one unless.

Buying Tip

When looking for a prospective home, don't be afraid to ask the current owner questions.

For too long people who've had a weight problem in this country have been discriminated against. Madison Avenue ads and products have been geared toward thin, average-looking people, making those extra 20, 30 or even 60 pounds feel left out—unwanted by society. Well, what's wrong with being fat? It shouldn't be the number of pounds on your bones that matters, but rather the type of person you are underneath it all. THE POPSI GENERATION IS BUSTING OUT

And now, since you've got a lot to live, we've got a lot more to give with the new 300 oz. bottle.

So...everyone into the pool!

You've heard that ancient saying—all work and no play makes for an old expression. And it's true. But sometimes combine the two by giving you

CRACKED'S PLAYFUL

Instead of raking leaves, invite some friends over, telling them to bring along a pair of spiked shoes.

Instead of carrying trash to the garbage cans, stuff the bag under your arm like a football and practice your broken field running.

Instead of mopping the kitchen floor, attach a wet mop to a remote control car and race the dirt away!

Don't bore yourself by using a ladder to pick fruit. Enjoy yourself by using a pogo stick.

Then, the group of you can play tag while at the same time picking up all the leaves in your yard!

Just make sure you don't fumble the ball!!

Instead of washing dishes in the conventional way, fill squirt guns with clear and soapy water and then use the dirty plates as targets!

it happens because a person just doesn't have the time for both, and that's where we come in as we attempt to

WAYS TO MAKE WORK FUN

And you can also enjoy yourself while cutting weeds by attaching a sharp blade to your favorite club...

...then go out into the yard and practice your swing!

The more of a duffer you are, the better job you'll do!

When dusting, use your finger to draw funny faces of people you know.

To finish the job, quickly erase the pictures before anyone sees them!

Instead of tiring yourself out by keeping up with Fido when you walk the dog...

...use your skateboard and let Fido do all of the work!

Or, if you have a small dog, wear roller skates and make him keep up with you!!

In the late 60's, colleges had their pick of as many students as they wanted. There was the Viet Nam war and young people (mainly males) were begging to get through their doors. But today, times have changed. Enrollments are down and even those going to school are starting to ignore certain general interest courses in favor of those classes which will help them get a higher paying job. So, not only is competition steep among universities to attract students, but also within the walls of any one institution, departments are fighting like anything to attract as many students to their courses as possible, so their budget won't be cut back. And how are they attempting to do this? Mainly by begging, pleading and advertising throughout the school. And to see what this competition looks like, all one needs to do is take a look at

My Friend,

Have I got a class for you,
It's POETRY 142.
Now I know you've heard that poems are dull
But here's a fact that you should mull:
The teacher - man - she's really built
Don't take this course, if you're filled with guilt.
She's got golden hair and sea-blue eyes
And soft pink lips - I tell no lies;
And a figure like an hour glass
We promise you, you'll not cut class.
And when she speaks, it's like Lauren Hutton
Deep and sexy - you'll melt to nothin';
But don't take our word, instead take our class
It's POETRY 142, and it's goin' real fast.

SHYLOCK HOMES

AND THE CASE OF THE LIFTED LOCKET

You amaze me Homes!

By my brilliant powers of deduction?

No, by the time you waste using them. Had you been truly brilliant, you would have simply turned the medal around...

...and read: "Medal from Scotland Yard for valor in solving the Case of the Nervous Ninny."

That would have been too simple—and besides, I didn't think of it!!

Mr. Homes!

Oh there's that blasted Mrs. Sudson again!

Has she been getting worse?

CLONE COLOGNE: SMELL LIKE YOURSELF

Watson, she's been the housekeeper in my family for over 93 years and I'm afraid it's starting to get to her. I might have to dismiss her.

But Homes, what's a 108-year-old woman supposed to do?

Start afresh Watson—strike out on a new career! Why, in America, people her age are just starting to run for Congress!!

Mr. Homes, there's a young lady to see you.

Very good. Send her in—that is if you can remember where you left her!

Mr. Homes, I must see you.

That's a young lady?

To Mrs. Sudson, anyone under 100 is young.

Now what can I do for you?

Mr. Homes, my...

Lucky locket is missing.

Why, how did you know?

Through deduction. When you walked in, I noticed that one of your arms was 2 centimeters longer than the other, indicating that you must have worn something on the right one to make it like that—and the only thing of any weight that would do that is a lucky locket. And, since I don't see one on your wrist at the moment, I surmised it was gone!

AMAZING!

Show off.

KRASH TINKLE!

CRACKED is returning a Liberty Bell replica because it's cracked!

Who was the last to see the item?

Pa Pa. He wore it to dinner last night.

Your father wore your locket?

Pa Pa's a little weird.

Well then, perhaps we should question him.

I'm afraid you can't. He's missing tool

Do you suppose the two are related?

Of course! If he's her father, then she's his daughter!!

No, Homes. I meant the missing locket and the missing daddy.

There's only one way to find out. We'll go to her home and look for clues—but first I must give Mrs. Sudson a message.

I think you'll find her in the back yard.

What's she doing there?

It appears that when you dismissed her before, you accidentally pushed her out the window.

Oh, I see you're preparing dinner, Mrs. Sudson. Well, we're going out for a few hours. Should anyone call, take a message.

Right-o, Mr. Homes.

In here. This is our...

Don't tell me! It's your dining room. This is where you and your father ate last night.

How does he do it, Dr. Whatson?!!

You know, that's odd. There's something wet all around this plate.

Father was a bit of a dribbler.

No, it's not from your father. It has a high sulfate content and the only thing to my knowledge that discharges sulfate is...

ISKWISH! ISKWISH!

A TALKING BLOB!

Correct Whatson. But how did you know?

Big deal, you also laugh at...

DON'T VISIT VENICE... YOU WOULDN'T BELIEVE THE PUDDLES!

No, I'm afraid I don't like these shoes either.

But miss, you've seen our entire stock— all, that is, except this pair.

Well, let me try them—as long as they're not wedgies. That style tends to make me look fat.

I assure you, it's not a wedgie, it's...

AHHHH!
It's eating my leg!

So long sucker!

BONG!

Well, you do have to admit—it does make you look thinner!

Homes, that Blob is eating everything in sight. Parliament is in an uproar. They're afraid this incident is going to ruin our tourist trade.

Yes, a talking blob gobbling down every building and fish 'n chip in sight could make London undesirable to visit—even for Americans!

But my plan should work. I need some bait to put in this box—something expendable.

Homes, what in all England is expendable?

Go get Mrs. Sudson.

Darling! You've returned! I knew you couldn't live without your little Freddy Bear. Now, come! Give your Freddy Bear a great big greeting!

AHHHHH!

So long sucker!

I said greeting, Marsha—not eating!

Now you've got the plan, Mrs. Sudson.

You're sure this isn't dangerous?

Not in the least. Remember, you hide in the box and when the Blob comes in to eat you, I pull on this string causing the box to drop. At that moment, you simply run out before either the box hits the ground or the Blob has had a chance to devour you. Got that?

Well...

Somewhat.

Let me have it then. I'd hate to have it... ah... scratched.

Would I risk the life of a trusted employee?

By the way—is that bracelet you're wearing valuable?

SKIER:
ONE WHO JUMPS TO CONTUSIONS.

Quick! Everyone behind the tree.

...except you, Mrs. Sudson. You stay in the box.

You're sure it's not dangerous?

You asked that already, you wrinkled bitty—now lay down before I nail you down!

He's coming, Homes.

SNIFF!
SNIFF!

Pull the string!!

AHA!

FLOOOOP!

We did it!! Here, Inspector. Take this box and put it in your freezer for 3 days. That'll finish off the Blob for good.

But the Mrs. and I haven't got one.

Oh! Well...

We've got one, Mr. Homes.

Mrs. Sudson!... How did you...?

I ran like you said.

KREEK!

But you move so slowly at home!

Here, Lieutenant. Let me have that box. I'll put it in our freezer for you.

Well, Homes, it looks like besides saving the world, you also revitalized your housekeeper.

Yes. Now I can work her into the ground again.

But the one thing that puzzles me is how you knew that freezing would kill that dastardly devil!

That's cause I've needed a nap—and finally, after 81 years, you let me lay down for a minute and take one.

Simple deduction, Watson.

Yes, I realize that. But still, it amazes me.

Well, let's face it. You're not naturally smart. So, what puzzles me is where you got all your training.

Yes, but from WHAT school?

From school, Watson.

Why, I've told you a thousand times—

Why's that?

Elementary, my dear Watson. Elementary!

TH'END

I was.
MARVIN MANLEY

ARE YOU MUSCLE- BOUND?

FREE BOOKLET!

Buddy, look in the mirror.

Are you a two-fisted dynamo of rippling power? Is every inch of your body packed with explosive, he-man brawn? Are your legs like two steel springs? Do you have a punch-proof mid-section and a crushing grip?

Well, your troubles are over!!

I can take that body of yours, and in just ten minutes a day, transform it into a weak, scrawny skeleton of a man, the type of body we all wish we had. I have developed a special exercise program that changes massive, bulging biceps and power-packed legs into sagging, skinny, sickly flesh hung on a weak, flabby frame.

The MARVIN MANLEY course is a medical miracle! It requires no tiring exercise, no special equipment or special diets. Aren't you just dying to know what it does involve? Well, if you are, just send me $516.32 plus postage and handling and you'll discover how easy it is to go from powerful to puny in just minutes.

Tell the truth. Deep down inside don't you really envy those guys with the caved-in chests? Every guy secretly wishes he had those bony shoulders, chicken legs, that "knocking on death's door" look. And I can give it to you! Just give me those ten minutes a day (and $516.32). In fact, I feel so confident of the amazing results that I sign my name to each order to seal this promise.

B. Anderson

"When I had bulging muscles, guys were always picking fights to see if they could take me. Now that those muscles are gone, I never get into fights. Everyone knows they can beat me up!"

T. McManus

"I tried your system and it didn't work at all. I don't know what went wrong. I followed your directions to the letter—every day I would stand on my head and whistle the theme song from Gilligan's Island for 10 minutes. Nothing happened."

R. Kerr

"I used to be a horrible student. The only subject I ever passed was gym. Then I took your course and lost so much weight that I got an 'A' in Biology by counting my own ribs. Thanks a million!"

J. Casale

"... and I know that you, Marvin, my dear brother will do all you can to help raise the 2 million dollars needed to bail mother out of jail. I don't care how you get the cash, just get it! We both know our loving mother would never commit armed robbery."
